@ Plush Room

You've heard him solo or with his jazz combo entertaining the cocktail crowd at the Lush Lounge, the dinner crowds at Mecca and Cosmopolitan Café, the North Beach crowd at Enrico's, and of course he was a finalist and one of the first adult vocalists in the new CBS Star Search. If you've been extra lucky, you've caught one of his wild and crazy "Crimson Club" cabaret shows at the Stud and

Jazz vocalist and songwriter Spencer Day — who has wowed local audiences with his "Crimson Club" cabaret shows, and who returns to SF from last week's Star Search competition on CBS — performs his original compositions with the help of a classy first-rate jazz combo. Featuring Day's mesmerizing vocals

— think Morrissey meets Sinatra — with fiery Finn Kelly burning up the keyboard, Daniel Fabricant looking gorgeous and playing hot stand-up bass, Bryan Carmody way cool on drums, and Wyatt Grant sexy on sax. This may be the best-looking, most talented boy band ever. The elegant, acoustically refined, intimate Plush Room, a former 1920's speakeasy in the York Hotel, is a perfect venue for showcasing Day's progressive jazz. $15 plus a two-drink minimum. 8pm. York Hotel, 940 Sutter St. Tix: 885-2800. Info: www.plush-room.com
